Apple in the Classroom

with Spencer Stevens

Student Presenter: Sakura Fukumoto

Saturday, January 20th 2024, 18:00-20:00
Juroku Plaza Building 4F

Abstract:

This workshop explores the transformative potential of Apple products in education. From iPads to MacBooks, participants will discover practical strategies for integrating Apple devices seamlessly into the classroom. Key topics include basic OS features, creating engaging content, enhancing collaboration, accessibility features, and effective device management. Educators will leave equipped to harness the full power of Apple technology, fostering creativity, collaboration, and inclusivity in their classrooms.

Note to participants: Please feel free to bring any Apple Products. However, you are highly encouraged to update your devices to the latest respective operating system versions. Individuals who do not use Apple products are still welcome to attend.
