Have you ever heard of Esperanto? Mr. Duensser will point out why Esperanto is the easiest foreign language to learn and why learning it sharpens the eye for grammatical structures. Esperanto can also be used as a preparation for the study of other languages.

In the lecture section, he will explain the grammatical structure of Esperanto, show how words are formed in Esperanto, and introduce some important vocabulary. By the end, you should be ready to create correct Esperanto sentences by yourself!

Further information about Esperanto can be obtained from the World Esperanto Association Universala Esperanto Asocio (UEA) in Rotterdam, Netherlands and from the Japan Esperanto Institute, Japana Esperanto-Instituto (JEI) in Tokyo.
